Arbitrator and Mediator

I. INTRODUCTION

This update reviews significant Michigan cases issued since 2008 concerning arbitration and mediation. For the sake of brevity, this update uses a short citation style rather than the official style for Court of Appeals unpublished decisions.

II. ARBITRATION

A. Michigan Supreme Court Decisions

Does arbitrator decide attorney fee in lien case?

Ronnisch Construction Group, Inc v Lofts on the Nine, LLC, ___ Mich ___, 150029 (2016) (Justices Viviano, Markman, McCormack, and Bernstein), held plaintiff can seek attorney fees under MCL 570.1118(2), of Construction Lien Act (CLA), where plaintiff received favorable award on related breach of contract claim but did not obtain judgment on construction lien claim. Arbitrator did not address attorney fee claim but reserved issue for Circuit Court. Supreme Court held Circuit Court may award attorney fees to plaintiff because plaintiff was lien claimant who prevailed in action to enforce construction lien through foreclosure. This affirmed COA. 306 Mich App 203 (2014).

Dissenting Justices Young, Zahara, and Larsen said Legislature communicated recovery of CLA attorney fees is permitted only to parties who prevail on construction lien. CLA attorney fees provision only allows court to award fees to lien claimant who is prevailing party. Because plaintiff did not meet definition of CLA lien claimant, and because it voluntarily extinguished its lien claim before Circuit Court could have so determined, plaintiff was not entitled to fees.

Dispute with individuals within arbitration agreement.

Altobelli v Hartmann, 499 Mich 284, 150656 (June 13, 2016), held plaintiff's tort claims against individual principals of law firm fell within scope of arbitration clause that required arbitration for any dispute between firm and former principal. Plaintiff, a former principal, challenged actions individual defendants performed in their capacities as agents carrying out business of firm. Supreme Court said this was a dispute between firm and former principal that fell within scope of arbitration clause and was subject to arbitration. Supreme Court reversed those portions of COA opinion, 307 Mich App 612; 816 NW2d 913 (2014), which held matter was not subject to arbitration.

Not all artwork invoice claims subject to arbitration.

Beck v Park West Galleries, Inc, 499 Mich 40; 878 NW2d 804, 151687 (2016), partially reversed COA 319463 (2015), considered whether arbitration clause in invoices for artwork purchases applied to disputes arising from previous artwork purchases when invoices for previous purchases did not refer to arbitration. Court held arbitration clause contained in later invoices cannot be applied to disputes arising from prior sales with invoices that did not contain clause. Court reversed part of COA judgment that extended arbitration clause to parties' prior transactions that did not refer to arbitration.

Court recognized policy favoring arbitration of disputes arising under collective bargaining agreements but said this does not mean arbitration agreement between parties outside collective bargaining context applies to any dispute arising out of any aspect of their relationship.

Duty to defend in arbitration.

Hastings Mut Ins Co v Mosher Dolan Cataldo & Kelly, Inc, 497 Mich 919; 856 NW2d 550 (2014), in lieu of granting leave to appeal, reversed COA (296791). Supreme Court said COA erred in holding insurer did not have duty to defend insured in arbitration case. Insurer has duty to defend, despite theories of liability asserted against insured that are not covered under policy, if there are theories of that fall within policy. Supreme Court remanded case to Circuit Court for further proceedings.

Is arbitration award "verdict" for case evaluation purposes?

Acorn Investment Co v Mich Basic Property Ins Ass'n, 495 Mich 338; 852 NW2d 22 (2014). Basic rejected case evaluation and appraisal panel's award was less favorable to Basic than case evaluation. Supreme Court held requirement that action proceed to verdict was satisfied. Under definition of verdict "a judgment entered as a result of a ruling on a motion after rejection of the case evaluation." Acorn may recover its actual costs because motion for entry of judgment caused case to "proceed to verdict" when Circuit Court ruled on motion. Because Circuit Court had discretion to award such costs to Acorn, Supreme Court reversed COA and remanded case to Circuit Court.

COA vacates second award and confirms first award.

City of Holland v French, 495 Mich 942; 843 NW2d 485 (2014), denied leave to appeal from 309367 (June 18, 2013). Justice Markman dissented. First arbitrator held City lacked just cause to terminate defendant and must reinstate her with back pay. Circuit Court vacated and required second arbitration. Second arbitrator ruled in favor of City, and Circuit Court affirmed. In split decision, COA reversed Circuit Court's vacatur of first award and remanded for entry of order enforcing first award.

Arbitrator, not MERC, to decide past practice issue.

Macomb Co v AFSCME, 494 Mich 65; 833 NW2d 225 (2013) (Young, Markman, Kelly, and Zahara [majority]; McCormack and Cavanagh [dissent]; Viviano [took no part]). Employer did not commit ULP when it refused to bargain with union over employer's decision to change actuarial table used to calculate retirement benefits. ULP complaints concerned subject covered by CBA. CBA grievance process was avenue to challenge employer's actions. Arbitrator, not MERC, is best equipped to decide whether past practice has matured into term or condition of employment.

Arbitrator can hear claims arising after referral to arbitration.

Wireless Toyz Franchise, LLC v Clear Choice Commc'n, Inc, 493 Mich 933, 825 NW2d 580 (2013), in lieu of granting leave to appeal, reversed COA, for reasons in COA dissent, and reinstated Circuit Court order, denying defendants' motion to vacate award and confirming award. Dissent in 303619 (May 31, 2012), said stipulated order intended arbitration would include claims beyond those pending because it allowed further discovery, gave arbitrator powers of Circuit Court, and said award would represent full and final resolution of matter. Claims not pending at time order was entered were not outside scope of arbitrator's powers.

Shareholder arbitration agreement covers discrimination claims.

Hall v Stark Reagan, PC, 493 Mich 903; 823 NW2d 274 (2012) (Young, Markman, MB Kelly and Zahra [majority]; Hathaway, Cavanagh and M Kelly [dissent]). Supreme Court reversed part of COA judgment, 294 Mich App 88; 818 NW2d 367 (2012), which held matter was not subject to arbitration. Supreme Court reinstated Circuit Court order granting summary disposition in favor of defendants and ordering arbitration. Dispute concerned motives of defendant shareholders in invoking separation provisions of Shareholders' Agreement. According to majority, this, including allegations of violations of Civil Rights Act, MCL 37.2101 et seq, is a "dispute regarding interpretation or enforcement of . . . the parties' rights or obligations" under Shareholders' Agreement, and was subject to arbitration pursuant to Agreement.

Dissents said Shareholders Agreement provided only for arbitration of violations of Agreement, not for allegations of discrimination under Civil Rights Act.

CBA just cause provision gives arbitrator authority.

36th Dist Ct v Mich Am Fed of State Co and Muni Employees, 493 Mich 879; 821 NW2d 786; 145147 (2012), in lieu of granting leave to appeal, reversed part of COA judgment that reversed award of reinstatement and back pay. Supreme Court said MCR 3.106 does not preclude such relief where CBA has just cause standard for termination. In 295 Mich App 502 (2012), COA ruled that because CBA did not abrogate Chief Judge's statutory or constitutional authority to appoint court officers, arbitrator exceeded jurisdiction by requiring Chief Judge to re-appoint grievants to their positions.

Parental pre-injury waivers and arbitration.

Woodman ex rel Woodman v Kera LLC, 486 Mich 228; 785 NW2d 1 (2010), five (Justices Young, Hathaway, Kelly, Weaver, and Cavanaugh) to two (Justices Markman and Corrigan) decision authored by Justice Young, held parental pre-injury waiver is unenforceable under Michigan common law because, absent special circumstances, parent does not have authority to contractually bind his or her child, citing McKinstry v Valley Obstetrics-Gynecology Clinic, PC, 428 Mich 167; 405 NW2d 88 (1987). In McKinstry, pregnant mother signed medical waiver requiring arbitration of any claim on behalf of her unborn child. Mother contested validity of waiver after child was injured during delivery. Court considered effect of Medical Malpractice Arbitration Act, MCL 600.5046(2) (repealed 1993 PA 78), which provided minor bound by written agreement to arbitrate disputes upon execution of agreement on his behalf by parent or legal guardian. Minor may not subsequently disaffirm agreement. McKinstry held statute required arbitration agreement signed by mother bound her child. According to Justice Young, McKinstry acknowledged arbitration agreement would not have been binding under common law and McKinstry's interpretation of MCL 600.5046(2) was departure from common law that parent has no authority to release or compromise claims by or against child. He said common law can be modified or abrogated by statute. Child can be bound by parent's act when statute grants authority to parent. Justice Young said MCL 600.5046(2) changed common law to permit parent to bind child to arbitration agreement.

Supreme Court upholds labor award concerning take-home vehicle.

Kentwood v Police Officers Labor Council, 483 Mich 1116; 766 NW2d 869 (2009). Supreme Court denied City's application for leave to appeal. This resulted in affirmation of COA reversal of Circuit Court's vacatur of labor arbitration award. Arbitrator granted grievance and held grievant was to be assigned take-home vehicle. Arbitrator determined there was past practice of assigning take-home vehicles and burden was on employer to prove it had repudiated practice without objection by union. Arbitrator said "past practice became a distinct and binding working condition that could not be altered without the mutual consent of the parties where the [CBA] is silent on the assignment of take-home vehicles." Arbitrator held policy manual provision was only valid "to the extent that it was consistent with [CBA], including established practices." Arbitrator concluded decision not to assign vehicle was inconsistent with past practice. Justice Markman dissented, with Justice Corrigan joining, indicating he would reinstate Circuit Court's order vacating award. Dissent said CBA does not refer to take-home vehicles, and department policy accords Chief discretion in assigning vehicles.

Ex parte* submission to arbitration panel inappropriate.

Gates v USA Jet Airlines, Inc., 482 Mich 1005; 756 NW2d 83 (2008), vacated award and remanded case to Circuit Court because one of parties submitted to arbitration panel ex parte submission in violation of arbitration rules. Submission may have violated MRPC 3.4(c) (knowingly disobeying an obligation under the rules of a tribunal) and 3.5(b) (prohibiting ex parte communication regarding pending matter).

Preliminary injunction vacated - six to one decision.

In Detroit Fire Fighters Ass'n v Detroit, 482 Mich 18; 753 NW2d 579 (2008), a public labor law dispute between Union and City, issue was whether Circuit Court properly issued preliminary injunction to prevent implementation of City's proposed layoff plan. Union contended plan violated "status quo" provision, MCL 423.243, of Michigan Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes for Police and Fire Departments Act, MCL 423.231 et seq, by, in part, jeopardizing firefighters' safety. Status quo provision violated where layoff plan alters condition of employment, namely firefighter safety. Circuit Court must conclude employer's challenged plan is so "inextricably intertwined with safety" that its implementation would impermissibly alter status quo by altering this employment "condition." Circuit Court found there were issues of fact concerning whether layoffs would have impact on firefighters' safety which is mandatory subject of bargaining. COA, 271 Mich App 457 (2006), affirmed Circuit Court. Supreme Court held injunction erroneously entered. Status quo provision states: "[d]uring the pendency of proceedings before the arbitration panel, existing wages, hours and other conditions of employment shall not be changed by action of either party without the consent of the other"

MCL 423.243. Whether layoff plan jeopardized employee safety requires scrutiny of plan details and finding that plan is "inextricably intertwined with safety" such that it would have "significant impact" on safety. If Circuit Court concludes standards for preliminary injunction have been met and chooses to issue injunction, it must promptly decide merits of status quo claim. Supreme Court held Circuit Court erred when it issued preliminary injunction. Circuit Court, in effect, issued permanent injunction where underlying merits of alleged status quo violation would never be resolved, contrary to requirements of MCR 3.310(A)(5). Supreme Court held, when safety claim is alleged, employer's challenged action alters status quo during pendency of Act 312 arbitration only if action is so "inextricably intertwined with safety" that action would alter "condition of employment."

Preliminary injunction vacated - four to three decision.

Pontiac Fire Fighters Union v Pontiac, 482 Mich 1; 753 NW2d 595 (2008). Circuit Court abused its discretion in issuing preliminary injunction preventing City from implementing plan to lay off Union members. Union sought preliminary injunction against proposed layoffs pending resolution of ULP charge, collective bargaining, or interest arbitration. Circuit Court granted preliminary injunction after ruling that Union satisfied four elements for injunctive relief. COA upheld preliminary injunction in split, decision. 271497 (November 30, 2006). Supreme Court said Union failed to meet burden of establishing irreparable harm would result without injunction. Supreme Court reversed COA and vacated Circuit Court order granting preliminary injunction.

Failure to tape record domestic relations arbitration hearing.

Kirby v Vance, 481 Mich 889; 749 NW2d 741 (2008), in lieu of granting leave to appeal, reversed COA (278731) and held arbitrator exceeded authority under DRAA when arbitrator failed to adequately tape record arbitration proceedings. Circuit Court erred when it failed to remedy arbitrator's error by conducting its own evidentiary hearing. Supreme Court remanded case to Circuit Court for entry of order vacating award and ordering another arbitration before same arbitrator.

Parties covered by arbitration.

Werdlow v Detroit Policemen & Firemen Ret Sys Bd of Trs, 477 Mich 893; 722 NW2d 428 (2006), in lieu of granting leave to appeal, vacated, in part, COA and remanded case to Circuit Court for entry of order granting summary disposition to defendants. COA correctly held Circuit Court lacked jurisdiction to grant relief requested by plaintiffs because unions were not parties to the arbitration. Section 10, MCL 423.240, of Michigan Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes for Police and Fire Departments Act, MCL 423.231 et seq, provides that awards are final and binding on parties.

Continued existence of common-law arbitration.

Wold Architects & Eng'rs v Strat, 474 Mich 223; 713 NW2d 750 (2006). Common-law arbitration not preempted by former Michigan Arbitration Act, MCL 600.5001 et seq. Common-law arbitration agreements unilaterally revocable before award. Statutory arbitration has to comply with MAA, including written arbitration agreement provide award is enforceable in

Circuit Court. With such compliance, party cannot withdraw from arbitration. With common-law arbitration, arbitration agreement is unilaterally revocable before award. Parties' conduct during arbitration process of non-written acquiescence in proceeding under arbitration rules that provided for court enforcement did not transform common-law arbitration into statutory arbitration.

Formal hearing format not required.

Miller v Miller, 474 Mich 27; 707 NW2d 341 (2005). DRAA, MCL 600.5070 et seq, does not require formal hearing during arbitration concerning property issues similar to that which occurs in regular trial proceedings.

B. Michigan Court of Appeals Published Decisions

Consolidated of arbitration cases under FAA.

In Lauren Bienenstock & Associates, Inc v Bienenstock, ___ Mich App ___, 323986 (2016), issue was whether Circuit Court or arbitrator has authority under Federal Arbitration Act (FAA), 9 USC § 1 et seq, to determine whether multiple arbitration cases should be consolidated when arbitration agreement is silent on that issue. COA held arbitrator decides that issue. Issue was governed by Federal law since FAA applied to agreements. COA did not address Michigan Uniform Arbitration Act, MCL 691.1681 et seq, because consolidation issue was controlled by federal law.

Waiver of right to arbitrate.

Nexteer Automotive Corp v Mando American Corp, ___ Mich App ___, 324463 (February 11, 2016), app lv pdg. Party waived its right to arbitration when it stipulated arbitration provision did not apply.

Arbitration in UIM no fault case.

Nickola v MIC Gen Ins Co, 312 Mich App 374, 322565 (September 24, 2015), app lv app pdg, further briefing ordered, ___ Mich ___, 152535 (May 25, 2016), discusses attorney fee and interest issue arising from protracted Uninsured Motorist case that included an arbitration.

COA partially confirms and partially vacates award in defamation case.

Hope-Jackson v Washington, 311 Mich App 602; 877 NW2d 736 319810 (August 18, 2015), affirmed confirmation of part of award in defamation case concerning tolling, defamation, presumed damages, actual malice, and $360,000 in per se damages; and reversed confirmation of part of award concerning $140,000 exemplary damages. Since there had been no request for retraction, COA ruled arbitrator's granting of exemplary damages was error of law on face of award. MCL 600.2911(2).

Pre-arbitration hearing submission of exhibits.

Fette v Peters Constr Co, 310 Mich App 535; 871 NW2d 877 (2015). Michigan Arbitration Act (MAA), MCL 600.5001 et seq, controlled; not Uniform Arbitration Act (UAA), MCL 691.1681 et seq. COA said record did not support plaintiffs' contention that arbitrator considered exhibits that defendant electronically shared before hearing in making award determination. Even if award were against great weight of evidence or not supported by substantial evidence, COA precluded from vacating award. Allowing parties to electronically submit evidence prior to hearing did not affect plaintiffs' ability to present evidence they desired.

Lay-offs go to court, not STC or CBA.

Baumgartner v Perry Public Schools, 309 Mich App 507; 313945, 314158, 314696 (March 12, 2015), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2015), held Legislature exercised its constitutional authority concerning teacher layoffs. Legislature made merit, not seniority, controlling factor in layoff decisions by removing layoffs as collective bargaining subjects and this removed unions and administrative agencies from dispute-resolution process in this realm of public-sector labor law. Legislature gave school boards power to make layoff decisions, and gave courts exclusive power to review such decisions.

Pre-award lawsuit concerning arbitrator selection.

Oakland-Macomb Interceptor Drain Drainage Dist v Ric-Man Constr, Inc, 304 Mich App 46; 850 NW2d 408 (2014), reflects viewpoint that “[n]o part of the arbitration process is more important than that of selecting the person who is to render the decision[,]” Elkouri & Elkouri, How Arbitration Works (7th ed), p 4-37, and “[c]hoosing an arbitrator may be the most important step the parties take in the arbitration process.” Abrams, Inside Arbitration (2013), p 37. In Oakland-Macomb, AAA did not appoint arbitration panel member who had specialized qualifications required in agreement to arbitrate. Agreement mandated qualifications for panel and outlined manner in which AAA must appoint panel. Plaintiff sued defendant and AAA to enforce these requirements. Circuit Court ruled in favor of defendant and AAA. Court of Appeals in split decision reversed.

Issue was whether plaintiff could bring pre-award lawsuit concerning arbitrator selection. Majority said courts usually will not entertain suits to hear pre-award objections to selection. But, when suit is brought to enforce essential provisions of agreement concerning criteria for selection, courts will enforce mandates.

Majority said agreement to arbitrate made specialized qualifications of panel central to entire agreement. When such provision to arbitrate is central to agreement, Federal Arbitration Act (FAA), 9 USC 1, et seq, provides it should be enforced by courts prior to arbitration hearing. “If in the agreement provision be made for a method of naming or appointing an arbitrator or arbitrators or an umpire, such method shall be followed” 9 USC 5. Party may petition court before award if (1) arbitration agreement specifies detailed qualifications arbitrator must possess and (2) arbitration administrator fails to appoint arbitrator who meets these qualifications. Court may issue order, pursuant to § 4 of FAA, requiring arbitration proceedings conform to arbitration agreement. Majority awarded plaintiff Circuit Court and COA costs and attorney fees.

Judge Jansen’s dissent said party cannot obtain judicial review of qualifications of arbitrators prior to award. There was no claim that selection involved fraud or other fundamental infirmity that would invalidate arbitration agreement, or any claim that appointee had inappropriate relationship with a party. Although appointee might not have requirements for appointment set forth in agreement, plaintiff was required to wait until after issuance of award in order to raise issue in proceeding to vacate. 9 USC 10.

Offsetting decision-maker biases can arguably create neutral tribunal.

White v State Farm Fire and Cas Co, 293 Mich App 419; 809 NW2d 637 (2011), discussed whether MCL 500.2833(1)(m) appraiser who receives contingency fee for appraisal is sufficiently neutral. COA said at fn 7 “[c]ourts have repeatedly upheld agreements for arbitration conducted by party-chosen, non-neutral arbitrators, particularly when a neutral arbitrator is also involved. These cases implicitly recognize it is not necessarily unfair or unconscionable to create an effectively neutral tribunal by building in presumably offsetting biases.”

Michigan Constitution trumps CBA.

AFSCME v Wayne Co, 292 Mich App 68; 811 NW2d 4 (2011), held that under judicial branch's inherent constitutional authority Third Circuit Court's judges have exclusive authority to determine assignment of court clerk to serve in judge's courtroom. Promulgation of Local Administrative Order was proper exercise of Circuit Court authority, and Circuit Court was not bound by CBA, arbitrator's ruling, on issue of courtroom assignments. COA ruled that PERA, MCL 423.201 et seq, aegis CBA and award that encroach on judicial branch's inherent constitutional powers cannot be enforced to extent of encroachment.

Arbitrator to determine timeliness issue.

AFSCME v Hamtramck Housing Comm, 290 Mich App 672 (2010). Determination of timeliness and defense of laches must be made by arbitrator in assessing whether claim is arbitrable.

Complaint must be filed to obtain award confirmation.

Jaguar Trading Limited Partnership v Presler, 289 Mich App 319 (2010). Complaint must be filed to obtain confirmation of award. Having failed to invoke Circuit Court jurisdiction under Michigan Arbitration Act (MAA), MCL 600.5001 et seq, by initiating civil action by filing complaint, plaintiff was not entitled to confirmation of award. Issue was whether plaintiff, as party seeking confirmation under MCR 3.602(I) and MAA was required to file complaint to invoke Circuit Court jurisdiction. COA held, because no action was pending between parties, plaintiff was required to file complaint to initiate civil action under MAA. Court held, since plaintiff timely filed award with court clerk, matter was remanded so plaintiff could file complaint in Circuit Court.

COA affirms denial of motion to modify award.

Nordlund & Assoc, Inc v Village of Hesperia, 288 Mich App 222; 792 NW2d 59 (2010), affirmed Circuit Court's denial of motion to modify award. COA said it must carefully evaluate claims of arbitrator error to ensure that such claims are not used as ruse to induce Court to review merits of award. MCR 3.602(K)(2)(a) allows for modification or correction of award only when it is based on mathematical miscalculation or evident mistake in a description. Because plaintiff's alleged error concerned interpretation of contract, and not descriptions or mathematical calculations, there was no evident mistake.

How many correction motions allowed?

In Vyletel-Rivard v Rivard, 286 Mich App 13; 777 NW2d 722 (2009); lv gtd 486 Mich 938; 782 NW2d 502 (2010), stip dism ____ Mich ____ (2010), defendant challenged Circuit Court's order denying motion to vacate award concerning tort damages in DRAA. COA affirmed Circuit Court's denial because Court concluded defendant's motion to vacate was not timely filed. On March 28, 2008, defendant, pursuant to MCL 600.509(2), filed motion to vacate "arbitration awards" of November 13, and December 7, 2007, as to tort damages. Party has 21 days to file motion to vacate in DRAA case. MCR 3.602 (J)(2). Lesson of this case is to think very carefully before filing second round of reconsideration motions rather than filing notice of appeal. Moody v Pepsi-Cola Metro Bottling Co, 915 F2d 201 (6th Cir 1990).

Six-year limitation period for action to vacate labor arbitration award.

Ann Arbor v AFSCME, 284 Mich App 126; 771 MW2d 843 (2009). There is no statute or court rule providing a limitations period for actions seeking to vacate public labor arbitration awards. COA said actions to vacate awards are more akin to actions to enforce awards than to actions for unfair representation. Action to vacate labor arbitration award is subject to six-year limitations period. As long as Arbitrator is arguably construing or applying CBA and acting within scope of authority, court may not overturn award even if Arbitrator committed serious error. Rowry v Univ of Mich, 441 Mich 1(1992), held plaintiff ordinarily has six years to seek enforcement of labor arbitration award and recognized in certain cases this time period may be substantially diminished if award grants equitable relief and delay in enforcement is shown to prejudice defendant in a way that evokes laches to bar plaintiff's claim.

COA approves probate arbitration.

In split decision, In re Nestorovski Estate, 283 Mich App 177; 769 NW2d 720 (2009), held that probate proceedings are not inherently unarbitrable.

C. Michigan Court of Appeals Unpublished Decisions

Arbitrators' awards confirmed.

Karmanos v Compuware Corp, 327476 and 327712 (October 20, 2016), affirmed Circuit Court's confirmation of an unreasoned award of $16,500,000. COA said lack of reasoned award rendered it impossible to discern mental path leading to award; court may not review arbitrator's factual findings or decision on merits; court may not invade province of arbitrator to construe contracts between parties; it is outside province of courts to engage in fact-intensive review of how arbitrator calculated values, or whether evidence arbitrator relied on was most reliable or credible evidence presented.

No COA appeal provision enforced.

Ruben v Badgett, 326717 (October 11, 2016). COA enforces no appellate appeal provision in Arbitration Agreement.

Asking for too much in confirmation motion.

Davis v State Farm Mutual Automobile Ins Co, 326126 (June 21, 2016), app lv app pdg. Plaintiff filed motion to confirm award and for entry of a judgment and for interest, costs, fees, and case evaluation costs and sanctions. UAA, MCL 691.1702. COA held Circuit Court properly denied plaintiff's request for entry of judgment that was not in amount of award and properly denied plaintiff's request for case evaluation sanctions.

MUAA does not apply.

Lansing Community College Chapter of Mich Ass'n for Higher Education v Lansing Community College Bd of Trustees, 323902 (January 21, 2016). Because of date of arbitration demand, MUAA does not apply.

Res judicata.

Jackson-Phelps v Dipiero, 323132 (December 17, 2015). Prior arbitration award on related issues was res judicata.

Review of employer's termination decision.

Taylor v Spectrum Health Primary Care Partners, 323155 (December 10, 2015), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2016). Employer reserved for itself sole discretion to determine existence of "unethical behavior" justifying summary termination. Provided employer follows procedures in contract, plaintiff has no basis to dispute determination and possibility of review by arbitrator, like possibility of judicial review, is foreclosed. Since arbitrators derive authority from contract and arbitration agreement, they are bound to act within those terms. Employer's termination decision did not give rise to "dispute" and plaintiff cannot seek review of this decision by arbitrator.

Court appointment of DRAA substitute arbitrator reversed.

In Zelasko v Zelasko, 324514 (December 8, 2015), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2016), defendant appealed order appointing substitute arbitrator after agreed-upon arbitrator died. Same order denied defendant's request that interim arbitration orders be vacated. Indicating nothing in DRAA, MCL 600.5070 et seq., permits Circuit Court to appoint substitute arbitrator absent agreement of parties, COA reversed portion of order appointing substitute arbitrator. COA agreed with Circuit Court there was no reason to disturb interim orders, which were either not contested or were affirmed by Circuit Court, and affirmed that portion of order.

COA affirms arbitrator fee.

In Plante & Moran, PLLC v Berris, 323562 (November 17, 2015), arbitrator fee collection case, COA affirmed fee because prior award confirming award was collateral estoppel and arbitrator was protected by doctrine of arbitral immunity.

COA approves informal method of conducting DRAA arbitration.

Fadel v El-Akkari, 321931 (October 15, 2015). (DRAA). COA held Circuit Court acted within its discretion in revisiting its initial decision to vacate arbitration award. DRAA does not require arbitrator to hear live rebuttal testimony.

Race to the courthouse.

New River Construction, LLC v Nat'l Mgt & Preservation Svs, LLC, 324465 (July 21, 2015). COA held Circuit Court abused discretion when it denied motion to set aside default judgment. Plaintiff is bound to arbitrate its breach of contract claim and defendant would have been entitled to summary disposition on these matters.

COA confirms binding mediation award.

In Cummings v Cummings, 318724 (May 19, 2015), plaintiff appealed Circuit Court order which denied plaintiff's motion to vacate "binding mediation award." COA affirmed. COA held binding mediation is equivalent to arbitration and subject to same judicial review. According to COA, parties agreed to binding mediation, which like arbitration, does not require a certain degree of formality. Relief from untimely award was not warranted where appellant failed to allege what substantial difference would have resulted from timely award. Cases where award was vacated due to ex parte communication involved violation of arbitration agreement prohibiting such conduct. Binding mediation agreement did not contain clause prohibiting ex parte communication, so there is no indication mediator exceeded powers by acting beyond material terms of parties' contract. COA said "Plaintiff also asserts that the mediator badgered witnesses, but the only example he gives is that the mediator poked a witness with a pencil. While poking a witness with a pencil, if that is exactly what occurred, is inappropriate, it does not show a concrete bias." COA pointed out the hearings were often hostile or aggressive. Although there were times where mediator's behavior was not indicative of 'a good mediator' or necessarily professional, mediator did the best he could to control the situation he was presented with and keep calm when hearings became aggressive."

COA confirms award in spite of discovery and witness interview issues.

Perry v Portage Pub Sch Bd of Ed, 319170 (March 12, 2015), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2015). In this AAA employment arbitration case, plaintiff appealed Circuit Court's order denying plaintiff's motion to vacate. COA affirmed. Prior to arbitration, employer retained investigator who created report. Employee requested copy of report before arbitration hearing. Employer declined, indicating it would provide report only if employee realized this would make report subject to public disclosure under Public Records Act. Employee asked authorization to interview potential employee witnesses. Employee did not request to depositions. At arbitration hearing, employer used investigator as witness. Arbitrator issued award in favor of employer. Circuit Court refused to vacate. COA agreed with Circuit Court that (1) employer did not refuse to produce report but rather correctly conditioned production on realization of Public Records Act implications, and (2) employee could have used depositions to interview witnesses but chose not to.

Dismissal order to permit arbitration is not final appealable order.

ITT Water & Wastewater USA Inc v L D'Agostini & Sons, Inc, 319148 (March 10, 2015). Circuit Court entered stipulation and order of dismissal without prejudice. Order stated parties entered into arbitration and tolling agreement concerning their claims. Circuit Court retained jurisdiction over case and case could be reopened under MCR 3.602(I) upon party's motion "for purposes of confirming any award rendered pursuant to the arbitration agreement of the parties." Order also stated that it resolved last pending claim and closed case. MCR 2.602(A)(3). Then defendant filed appeal challenging Circuit Court's prior orders granting partial summary disposition in favor of plaintiff. COA held that stipulated order of dismissal entered by Circuit Court pursuant to parties' agreement to submit their claim and counterclaim to arbitration was not appealable by right, and COA lacked jurisdiction over appeal. COA noted that after entry of judgment on award, defendant could challenge in an appeal by right Circuit Court's orders granting partial summary disposition in favor of plaintiff.

Successors have to comply with arbitration clause.

Marjorie Brown Trust v Morgan Stanley Smith Barney, LLC, 317993 (February 5, 2015), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2015). The main issue was whether dispute over investment account is subject to arbitration, as specified in account agreement, or whether dispute can proceed in court. Plaintiff admitted her account with Smith Barney Shearson was subject to arbitration agreement, but asserted defendants Morgan Stanley Smith Barney and Citigroup Global Markets were not successors to Smith Barney Shearson, and were not parties to arbitration agreement. Defendants produced evidence that Morgan Stanley Smith Barney and Citigroup Global Markets were successors of Smith Barney Shearson, through consolidations. COA agreed with Circuit Court that defendants were successors of Smith Barney Shearson and agreement to arbitrate was binding on plaintiff.

Labor arbitration award res judicata in subsequent court proceeding.

In Heffelfinger v Bad Axe Public Schools, 318347 (December 2, 2014), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2015), teacher was separated pursuant to Last Chance Agreement. LCA provided separation could be arbitrated. Separation issue went to arbitration. Arbitrator upheld separation. Teacher filed court action arguing LCA violated Teachers' Tenure Act, MCL 38.71 et seq. COA held award was res judicata and precluded teacher's court case. In prior decision, COA held collateral estoppel applies to positions taken in prior arbitration. Thomas v Miller Canfield Paddock & Stone, 314374 (October 21, 2014).

Past practice issues go to arbitration.

Wayne Co v AFSCME, 312708 (October 9, 2014). COA held, if CBA covers term or condition in dispute, enforceability of provision is left to arbitration. CBA grievance and arbitration procedures were bypassed. Scope of MERC's authority in reviewing claim of refusal-to-bargain when parties have grievance or arbitration process is limited to whether CBA covers subject of claim. When there is evidence that past practice has modified CBA, it is for arbitrator to make determination on the issue, not MERC. See generally Macomb Co v AFSCME, 494 Mich 65; 833 NW2d 225 (2013).

USAF pension consideration in DRAA arbitration.

Torres v Torres, 314453 (August 19, 2014) (Gleicher and O’Connell [majority]; and Hoekstra [dissent]), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2015). Parties submitted divorce case to arbitration. Evidence submitted to arbitrator revealed husband was entitled to USAF pension. Arbitrator’s initial award overlooked USAF pension. When wife brought this omission to arbitrator’s attention, he acknowledged existence of unvested pension but refused to value or equitably divide it. As a result, award on its face improperly treated pension as husband’s separate property. COA reversed Circuit Court’s affirmance of award and remanded for reconsideration of the pension distribution.

Award from hearing with one party absent confirmed.

Blue River Financial Group, Inc v Elevator Concepts Ltd, 315971 (July 29, 2014); and Elevator Concepts Ltd v Blue River Financial Group, Inc, 314803 (July 29, 2014). Arbitration hearing took place. Defendants did not attend. There was no answer or response to plaintiff’s demand for arbitration. There was no transcript of arbitration. Arbitrator issued award in favor of plaintiff. Plaintiff filed motion to enforce award. Defendants argued there was no agreement to arbitrate, and arbitrator had no authority to issue award against them. Plaintiff contended that defendants waived any challenge to award because they never objected to plaintiff’s demand for arbitration. Circuit Court granted plaintiff’s motion to enforce award. COA affirmed and indicated that to determine arbitrability, court must consider whether there is arbitration provision in parties’ contract, whether dispute is arguably within arbitration clause, and whether dispute is expressly exempt from arbitration by terms of contract, and doubts about arbitrability are resolved in favor of arbitration. COA indicated that court may not hunt for errors in award, and facially valid damage award should not be disturbed.

Arbitrator failed to comply with arbitration agreement.

In Visser v Visser, 314185 (July 15, 2014), a domestic relations matter, parties agreed to arbitration in order to resolve issues relating to child custody, parenting time, child support, and property. Parties agreed that, pursuant to MCL 600.5077(2), if child custody, child support, and/or parenting time were at issue, a court reporter would be hired to transcribe portion of arbitration proceedings affecting those issues. They agreed that arbitrator must adhere to MRE. After successfully mediating custody and parenting time issues, arbitration was held to decide child support and property issues. Without presence of court reporter, and without adhering to MRE, arbitrator entered award and proposed judgment. Defendant argued arbitrator exceeded his authority in failing to apply MRE and failing to hire court reporter. Circuit Court ruled in favor of plaintiff, entered arbitrator’s proposed judgment and denied defendant’s motion to vacate award. COA held that because of arbitrator’s failure to comply with arbitration agreement by neither utilizing MRE nor obtaining court reporter, Circuit Court erred in refusing to vacate provision of award and proposed judgment concerning child support.

Does arbitrator or Court decide sanctions issue?

G&B II, PC v Gudeman, 315607 (July 15, 2014), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2015). An attorney-fee dispute resulted in arbitration, where parties negotiated a payment plan. Plaintiff returned to Circuit Court seeking sanctions against defendant’s counsel, contending that counsel’s defense was frivolous. Circuit Court denied sanction request, ruling that it should have been directed to arbitrator. COA affirmed, for reasons different than those used by Circuit Court. Plaintiff could have sought sanctions in arbitration. It did not do so. Given the brief time Circuit Court “conducted” the underlying action, COA declined to disturb Circuit Court’s conclusion that it could not reasonably assess a sanction. Arbitration agreement gave arbitrator authority to resolve any disagreement between the parties “in connection with, or in relation to this Agreement, or otherwise.” The imposition of sanctions in arbitration for attorney misconduct during arbitration proceedings is consistent with language of arbitration agreement, broad powers granted to arbitrators, and court rules. AAA Rules governing commercial arbitration do not prohibit sanctioning attorney for arguing a frivolous defense. AAA, Commercial Arbitration Rules & Mediation Procedures, R-58(a). Regardless of arbitrator’s power to sanction an attorney, Circuit Court did not clearly err by refusing to do so.

Court must resolve dispute regarding validity of arbitration agreement.

Queller v Young and Meather Properties, LLC, 315862 (June 17, 2014). Circuit Court granted defendant’s motion to compel arbitration. Circuit Court determined that alleged fraud in the inducement claim could be raised in arbitration. COA reversed. According to COA, before court can order party to arbitration, court must resolve any dispute regarding validity of underlying agreement; existence of arbitration agreement and enforceability of its terms are questions for court, not arbitrator.

CBA must be exhausted before court action.

Gliwa v Lenawee Co, 313958 (May 27, 2014), concerned termination of plaintiff’s employment. Defendants appealed from Circuit Court order denying their motion for summary disposition. COA reversed. According to COA, Circuit Court erred by failing to grant summary disposition in favor of defendants on plaintiff’s claims of wrongful discharge; plaintiff’s position was in collective bargaining unit; he was bound by CBA; and his failure to utilize CBA grievance procedure required summary disposition in favor of defendants. Where CBA mandates that internal remedies be pursued, a party must exhaust those remedies before filing a court action.

COA reverses Circuit Court order to disqualify arbitrator.

Thomas v City of Flint, 314212 (April 22, 2014) (Donofrio and Cavanagh [majority]; Jensen [concurring]). During course of pending arbitration, neutral arbitrator inadvertently sent e-mail to plaintiff’s counsel that was intended for one of arbitrator’s own clients. Plaintiff’s counsel then requested neutral arbitrator to recuse herself and she declined. Circuit Court granted plaintiff’s motion to disqualify neutral arbitrator. Plaintiff appealed. COA indicated arbitrator should be disqualified if, based on objective and reasonable perceptions, arbitrator has serious risk of actual bias, the appearance of impropriety standard is applicable to arbitrators; and arbitrators are not judges and are not subject to Code of Judicial Conduct. Unintentional e-mail did not give rise to objective and reasonable perception that serious risk of actual bias existed. MCR 2.003(C)(1)(b). COA reversed Circuit Court’s order granting plaintiff’s motion to disqualify.

Concurrence said, if plaintiff wished to challenge impartiality of neutral arbitrator, he was required to wait until after award was issued.

COA reverses Circuit Court vacatur of award.

Hillsdale Co Medicare Care and Rehabilitation Ctr v SEIU, 310024 (April 22, 2014). Plaintiff discharged employee LPN because she allegedly used inappropriate language concerning residents. Employer reported situation to Michigan Department of Community Health's Bureau of Health Systems (BHS). Without interviewing employee, BHS concluded "resident verbal abuse was substantiated to have occurred." SEIU took matter to arbitration. Arbitrator found there was not just cause for discharge and reinstated employee with back pay. Arbitrator did not give deference to BHS conclusion because BHS had not interviewed employee. Employer filed complaint seeking to have award vacated on grounds that reinstating employee would violate Section 20173a(1), Public Health Code. MCL 333.20173a. Employer argued that award was inconsistent with BHS conclusion. Because of BHS conclusion, Circuit Court vacated award. COA held Circuit Court should have considered arguments that BHS had denied due process to employee and had not complied with its own investigatory requirements. COA reversed Circuit Court order and remanded for evidentiary hearing concerning whether there was substantiated BHS finding that employee engaged in abuse and, if so, whether that finding was made pursuant to appropriate investigation.

COA reverses Circuit Court confirmation of award.

In Rogensues v Weldmation, Inc, 310389 and 311211 (February 11, 2014), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2014), defendant appealed Circuit Court judgment confirming arbitration award. COA held Circuit Court erred in confirming award and that defendant did not enter into an arbitration agreement with plaintiff and was not bound by employment agreement plaintiff had with defendant. Defendant was not required to file motion to vacate award under MCR 3.602(J) in order to affirmatively defend against confirmation of award. Circuit Court erroneously failed to consider defendant's defense that no arbitration agreement existed before confirming award. Defendant was not required to arbitrate dispute plaintiff had with defendant. Arbitrator exceeded her authority when she concluded defendant was bound by plaintiff's employment agreement to arbitrate plaintiff's claim that he was entitled to a severance payment.

COA affirms Circuit Court vacatur of awards.

In AFSCME v Charter Twp of Harrison, 312541 (January 16, 2014), COA affirmed Circuit Court vacatur of arbitration award. CBA provided in event that either party fails to answer or appeal within time limits, grievance will be considered decided in favor of opposite party. Employer failed to answer grievance within required time limits, but award did not decide grievance in AFSCME's favor. According to COA, this was erroneous. Employer's failure to timely respond to grievance triggered default provision.

Cannot compel arbitration by non-signatory.

Ric-Man Constr Inc v Neyer, Tiseo & Hindo Ltd, 309217 (March 26, 2013). COA held Circuit Court erred by concluding defendant had right to compel arbitration between it and plaintiff, based on plaintiff's arbitration agreement with a third entity. COA said, although arbitration is favored by public policy as means for resolving disputes, arbitration is voluntary, and party cannot be required to submit to arbitration a dispute which it has not agreed to submit.

Arbitration award can be res judicata in subsequent lawsuit.

Sloan v Madison Heights, 307580 (March 21, 2013). COA affirmed Circuit Court ruling that prior award was res judicata on issue of whether City had unilateral right to change retiree insurance carriers. Grievances were based on CBA language that was substantially similar to language contained in plaintiffs' CBAs. A substantial identity of interests existed between retirees represented by former union and those represented by present union. Plaintiffs' interests were presented and protected in the arbitration.

Arbitrator cannot render "default" award without a hearing.

Hernandez v Gaucho, LLC, 307544 (February 19, 2013). Parties arbitrated plaintiff's employment termination claim. Arbitrator ruled in favor of employee. Award was based on default of employer, who had failed to provide discovery during arbitration proceeding. Arbitrator did not conduct arbitration hearing, hear testimony, or take proofs. Employee moved to confirm award and defendants moved to vacate. Circuit Court was concerned that arbitrator never took any evidence and there were ex parte communications between arbitrator and attorneys. Circuit Court granted motion to vacate and denied motion to confirm. COA affirmed. COA said arbitrator can hear testimony, take evidence, and issue award in absence of one of parties if that party, although on notice, has defaulted or failed to appear. Arbitrator may not issue award solely on basis of default of one of parties, but must take sufficient evidence from non-defaulting party to justify award. Uniform Arbitration Act (UAA) provides, even when arbitrator is entitled to proceed in absence of defaulting party, arbitrator is required to "hear and decide the controversy on the evidence" MCL 691.1695(3). UAA, MCL 691.1681 et seq., 2012 PA 371 (July 1, 2013).

Rule 31, AAA Commercial Arbitration Rules (October 1, 2013); Rule 29, AAA Employment Arbitration Rules (November 1, 2009); and Rule 26, AAA Labor Arbitration Rules (July 1, 2013), state:

Unless the law provides to the contrary, the arbitration may proceed in the absence of any party or representative who, after due notice, fails to be present or fails to obtain a postponement. An award shall not be made solely on the default of a party. The arbitrator shall require the other party to submit such evidence as may be required for the making of an award.

Rule 12603, FINRA Code of Arbitration for Customer Disputes (April 16, 2007), and Rule 13603, FINRA Code of Arbitration for Industry Disputes (April 16, 2007), state:

If a party fails to appear at a hearing after having been notified of the time, date and place of the hearing, the panel may determine that the hearing may go forward, and may render an award as though all parties had been present.

Successor to arbitration agreement must prove it is successor.

Brown v Morgan Stanley Smith Barney, 307849 (February 19, 2013). In this customer against brokerage firm case, issue was whether agreement to arbitrate customer had signed with non-party prior brokerage firm inured to benefit of defendant brokerage firm. COA found no evidence which definitively explained relationship, if any, between defendants and either Smith Barney Inc. or Smith Barney Shearson Inc. Thus, according to COA, defendant brokerage firm was not entitled to order compelling arbitration. This case shows, if a party argues that arbitration agreement with another entity inures to the party's benefit, it should have a clear paper trail showing relationship between party and other entity.

Effect of union not taking case to CBA arbitration.

Kucmierz v Dep't of Corrections, 309247 (February 12, 2013). Employee brought lawsuit against employer arguing termination of employee was improper. Parties stipulated to dismiss court case so entities could go to CBA arbitration between union and employer. Union eventually decided not to take matter to arbitration and there was no arbitration. Employee then moved to set aside dismissal of court case. Circuit Court set aside dismissal. COA reversed. Employee alleged parties had mistaken belief that union was going to arbitrate the case. The stipulation and order provided that parties agreed to dismiss proceeding with prejudice because it was the subject of agreement to arbitrate. Stipulation did not provide that matter would actually be arbitrated or that dismissal was contingent on arbitration occurring. Nothing in stipulation precluded union and employer from reaching a settlement agreement to avoid arbitration process. Employee failed to show that mutual mistake occurred and he was not entitled to relief from dismissal order.

Party did not waive objection to arbitration by participating in arbitration.

Fuego Grill, LCC v Domestic Uniform Rental, 303763 (January 22, 2013) (Murray and Shapiro [majority]; and Markey [dissent]), lv den, ___ Mich ___ (2013). Issue was whether Circuit Court erred in concluding there was not an agreement to arbitrate between parties. Plaintiff did not waive issue of arbitrability through participation in arbitration, as it argued during arbitration that no contract existed and, before award was issued, it filed complaint in Circuit Court seeking to preclude arbitration because no contract to arbitrate existed. Absence of valid agreement to arbitrate is defense to action to confirm award. It is for court, not arbitrator, to determine whether agreement to arbitrate exists.

Judge Markey's dissent concluded that on basis of Michigan's policy favoring arbitration and because plaintiff's claims were within scope of arbitration clause that plaintiff signed, that plaintiff may not relitigate its fact-based defenses in Circuit Court.

Three-year limitation precludes claim and arbitration.

Krueger v Auto Club Ins Ass'n, 306472 (January 8, 2013). Arbitration agreement required arbitration demand must be filed within three years from date of accident or insurer will not pay damages. Insured did not file arbitration demand within three years of accident. Insured argued three years did not start until insurer communicated it was denying the claim. According to COA, policy requires arbitration demand be filed within three years of accident, and such language does not bar insured from filing arbitration demand in order to comply with three year time limitation even if disagreement has not yet arisen. Therefore arbitration demand was untimely.

Arbitration PTO award vacated.

MSX Int'l Platform Services, LLC v Hurley, 300569 (May 22, 2012) (Owens, Jansen [dissent], and Markey), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2012), reversed Circuit Court's denial of motion to vacate award. Issue was whether employer's written PTO policy granted employee vested right to PTO. COA found nothing that supported notion of express contract or agreement concerning compensation for PTO; and there was no basis for finding there was contract or agreement that entitled employee to PTO. Judge Jansen dissented, stating whether arbitrator's interpretation of contract is wrong is irrelevant.

Another strict interpretation of arbitration agreement issue submission.

Cohen v Park West Galleries, Inc, 302746 (April 5, 2012), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2012). Plaintiffs appealed Circuit Court's ruling that all of plaintiffs' claims were subject to arbitration agreement. COA held only claims subject to arbitration were those arising from agreements containing an arbitration clause. Michigan law generally requires that separate contracts be treated separately, and language of agreements that contained arbitration clause did not reference past purchases.

Non-signatories sometimes subject to arbitration agreement.

Tobel v AXA Equitable Life Ins Co, 298129 (February 21, 2012), affirmed Circuit Court's order compelling plaintiffs to submit their claims to arbitration. Because parties performed under terms of agreements, plaintiffs could not avoid terms of agreements on ground that promises made at beginning of agreements rendered agreements illusory. Non-signatories may be bound by arbitration agreement based on estoppel where they are seeking direct benefit from contract while trying to disavow arbitration provision.

Pre-existing tort claim commenced after domestic relations arbitration.

Chabiaa v Aljoris, 300390 (February 21, 2012). Under domestic relations arbitration agreement, arbitrator was to decide property division and support. After arbitration, Circuit Court entered judgment of divorce pursuant to award. Judgment provided it resolved all pending claims and closed case. Subsequently, plaintiff filed assault and battery complaint against defendant for events that preceded arbitration. According to COA, scope of arbitration agreement did not include resolution of tort claims, and assault and battery cause of action could be brought in separate proceeding after domestic relations case and arbitration.

Arbitration submission language strictly interpreted.

Midwest Mem Group, LLC v Singer, 301861, 301883 (February 14, 2012), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2012). Defendants appealed Circuit Court order denying their motions to compel arbitration. Defendants maintained that language of arbitration provisions covered plaintiffs' allegations. COA in convoluted and complicated opinion affirmed Circuit Court ruling arbitration clauses did not cover controversy at issue.

Party did not waive its right to arbitration.

Flint Auto Auction, Inc v The William B Williams Sr Trust, 299552 (November 22, 2011). Party is prejudiced by inconsistent acts of other party when it has expended resources to litigate merits of its case. Plaintiff argued it expended tremendous resources due to defendants' discovery requests. Defendants argued plaintiff's burden was minimal. COA said party must expend more than just some time and resources in litigation to constitute sufficient prejudice. While plaintiff expended some effort responding to discovery requests, it had not exerted level of effort COA had previously found to require waiver. In light of public policy favoring arbitration, plaintiff had not satisfied its burden of establishing waiver.

Order to compel arbitration vacated.

Gardella Homes, Inc v LaHood-Sarkis, 298332 (October 11, 2011). Construing releases in modification agreement with promissory note, COA held Circuit Court erred in holding that promissory note was subject to arbitration. Engrafting arbitration clause onto promissory note would contravene parties' intent to settle matter with a payment obligation that was not subject to defenses or counterclaims. Because promissory note did not contain arbitration clause, COA vacated Circuit Court's arbitration order.

Second union can be necessary party to labor arbitration.

Macomb Co v Police Officers Ass'n of Mich, 299436 (September 20, 2011), involved dispute between County, POAM, and MCPDSA regarding call-in priority for overtime. Arbitrator issued award in favor of POAM holding there had been no violation of POAM's CBA, and overtime call-in procedures were binding past-practice. COA concluded that MCPDSA was necessary party to the litigation. MCPDSA's CBA addressed call-in procedures, and arbitrator's jurisdiction could not extend to deciding terms of MCPDSA's CBA without MCPDSA being added as party to arbitration. To properly interpret POAM's CBA, it was necessary for arbitrator to consider other related CBAs. Because COA found that MCPDSA was necessary party to arbitration, it vacated Circuit Court order and remanded to arbitrator for further proceedings.

Party should have raised case evaluation issue with arbitrator.

J L Judge Constr Services v Trinity Electric, Inc, 295783 (August 2, 2011). After case evaluation, parties agreed to arbitration. Defendants prevailed in arbitration so as to be arguably entitled to case evaluation costs. Instead of requesting these costs from arbitrator, defendants requested them from Circuit Court. AAA rules provided that award may include attorneys' fees if authorized by law and arbitrator was entitled to assess fees. Despite authority to grant attorney fees, arbitrator held parties were to bear their own fees. COA said defendants should have submitted attorney fee issue to arbitrator.

Non-party cannot filed motion concerning arbitration award.

In Dubuc v Dep't of Environmental Quality, 298712 (July 14, 2011), non-party attorney filed motion to modify arbitration award. Circuit Court granted motion. COA vacated Circuit Court's order indicating that it was impermissible for non-party to file motion in a case in which he was not a party.

Arbitration issue submission language again strictly interpreted.

Hantz Group, Inc v Van Duyn, 294699 (June 30, 2011). Plaintiffs alleged violations of non-solicitation agreements with defendant former-employees. COA ruled Circuit Court erred in ordering arbitration. Non-solicitation agreements did not contain arbitration clauses. Only agreement to arbitrate was based on FINRA membership, and plaintiffs had not agreed to arbitrate claims arising out of non-solicitation agreements.

Arbitration remedy may preclude MERC order.

Flint v Police Officers Labor Council, 295913 (April 14, 2011), reversed MERC order in favor of charging parties. Flint argued MERC should have dismissed ULP charges on basis of arbitration provisions in CBAs. COA agreed with Flint that matter was covered by CBA arbitration provisions. COA vacated MERC's order and remanded for further proceedings.

consistent with its opinion. On remand, it is MERC's responsibility to determine if alleged ULPs should be dismissed.

Federal Arbitration Act does not allow appeal of order to state court.

Midwest Memorial Group LLC v Citigroup Global Markets, Inc, 301867 (March 18, 2011), Federal Arbitration Act, 9 USC 1 et seq, case, held 9 USC 16(a)(1)(B) does not create right to appeal state court order denying arbitration to state appellate court. It only provides for appeal from order denying petition to order arbitration under 9 USC 4. 9 USC 4 only allows for petitions for arbitration to United States District Court.

Individual supervisor not covered by arbitration agreement.

In Riley v Ennis, 290510 (February 25, 2010), lv dn ____ Mich ____ (2010), plaintiff brought employment discrimination case against only his individual supervisor. Defendant moved to dismiss because of arbitration agreement between plaintiff and non-party corporate employer. Circuit Court granted defendant's motion to dismiss action. COA reversed, indicating that although defendant signed employment contract, contract specified he did so "For the Agency." According to COA, corporation can only act through its officers and agents. Arbitration agreement was applicable to corporate employer but not to individual supervisor.

Arbitration agreement may benefit non-signatory.

Lyddy v Dow Chemical Co, 290052 (January 19, 2010), found that terms of arbitration agreement, incorporating claims against any entity for whom or with whom GSI had done or might be doing work during time of employment, precluded plaintiff's suit against Dow. The issue was whether plaintiff's agreement with GSI required plaintiff to arbitrate his claims against Dow. COA held that, in certain instances, arbitration agreement may extend to persons who were not parties to agreement.

Labor arbitration retained jurisdiction supplemental award partially vacated.

In Police Officers Ass'n of Mich v Leelanau Co, 285132 (November 10, 2009), COA partially vacated and partially confirmed labor arbitration award. Arbitrator ruled there was no just cause to terminate Deputy. Arbitrator required psychological fitness for duty examination; and retained jurisdiction to resolve issues concerning implementation of award. Circuit Court refused to vacate reinstatement order, but held arbitrator exceeded authority by retaining jurisdiction providing for fitness for duty examination. COA basically affirmed Circuit Court. Concerning retention of jurisdiction, Article 6(E)(1)(a) of Code of Professional Responsibility for Arbitrators of Labor-Management Disputes of the FMCS, NAA, and AAA states: "Unless otherwise prohibited by agreement of the parties or applicable law, an arbitrator may retain remedial jurisdiction without seeking the parties' agreement. If the parties disagree over whether remedial jurisdiction should be retained, an arbitrator may retain such jurisdiction in the award over the objection of a party and subsequently address any remedial issues that may arise." Elkouri & Elkouri, How Arbitration Works, 6th Ed, pp 333-337; CUNA Mut Ins Soc'y v Office & Prof'l Employees, 443 F3d 556 (7th Cir 2006); and Sterling China Co v Allied Workers, 357 F3d 546 (6th Cir 2004). Concerning interest, Elkouri & Elkouri, p 1219, states: "The modern view is that the award of interest is within the inherent power of an arbitrator, and in fashioning a 'make-whole' remedy it appears that a growing number of arbitrators are willing to exercise the discretion to award interest where appropriate." St Joseph Co, Mental Health Facility, 86 LA 305

(Howlett, 1985). COA did not discuss Code of Professional Responsibility for Arbitrators of Labor-Management Disputes or other authority concerning arbitrator retaining jurisdiction.

Labor arbitration award involving lay-off return vacated.

City of Frankfort v Police Officers Ass'n of Mich, 286523 (September 15, 2009), arose out of hiring new employee rather than recalling employee from layoff. Issue before arbitrator was whether laid off employee had recall rights in light of new CBA language. In split decision, COA vacated award and remanded matter to arbitrator. Dissent said, if arbitrator erred in analysis, arbitrator, in making analysis, was interpreting provisions of CBA. Majority cited but distinguished Mich Family Res, Inc v SEIU, 475 F3d 746 (6th Cir 2007)(en banc). Mich is leading Sixth Circuit case on standard for reviewing labor arbitration awards. In Mich, Union appealed District Court's decision vacating award. Sixth Circuit reversed because arbitrator was acting within scope of authority, company had not accused arbitrator with fraud or dishonesty, arbitrator was arguably construing CBA when he awarded employees cost of living increase, and company had shown no more than that arbitrator made error, perhaps serious error, in interpreting CBA. Mich said following should be looked at in deciding whether to vacate labor arbitration award. Did arbitrator act: outside arbitrator's authority by resolving dispute not committed to arbitration? Did arbitrator commit fraud, have conflict of interest or otherwise act dishonestly in issuing award? And in resolving legal or factual disputes, was arbitrator arguably construing or applying the contract? As long as arbitrator does not offend any of these requirements, request for judicial intervention should be denied even though arbitrator made serious, improvident or silly errors. Mich said arbitrator does not exceed authority every time arbitrator makes interpretive error. Arbitrator exceeds authority only when CBA does not commit dispute to arbitration. Lesson from City of Frankfort is on occasion Michigan appellate court might give less deference to labor arbitration award as Federal court would under Mich.

Evaluation notification labor arbitration award vacated.

Northville Education Ass'n v Northville Public Schools, 287076 (August 20, 2009), vacated labor arbitration award and remanded case to arbitrator. CBA required teacher be given prior notification of eligibility to opt for evaluation. Because teacher was on maternity leave at time notification would have been given, District did not give notification. Teacher was subsequently given less favorable evaluation method and an individual improvement plan. Teacher grieved arguing she should have received notification of more favorable evaluation. Arbitrator denied grievance. According to arbitrator, teacher knew about evaluation option because of her prior participation in it, and by not requesting it again, she was "estopped" from complaining about non-notification. Circuit Court said arbitrator had added term to CBA and therefore exceeded authority, and estoppel was inapplicable because CBA did not permit equitable considerations of "estoppel." Labor organization brought action to vacate award.

COA rejects arbitration of post-CBA term grievance.

Grand Rapids Employees Ind Union v Grand Rapids, 280360 (October 16, 2008), lv dn ___ Mich ___ (2009). Union cannot arbitrate grievances where CBA excludes arbitration when administrative action is filed on same matter.

COA affirms Circuit Court orders favoring arbitration.

III. MEDIATION

A. Michigan Supreme Court Decisions

MSA concerning parental rights.

In re Wangler, 498 Mich 911; 870 NW2d 923, 149537 (2015)[Justice Markman dissenting], reversed 305 Mich App 438 (2014). Supreme Court held Circuit Court violated MCR 3.971(C)(1) by failing to satisfy itself that mother’s plea was knowingly, understandingly, and voluntarily made; and manner in which Circuit Court assumed jurisdiction violated mother’s due process rights. In re Alston, 328667 (March 17, 2016).

In 305 Mich App 438 (2014) (Hoestra and Sawyer [majority]; Gleicher [dissent]), parties entered into MSA. Respondent failed to comply with MSA ordered services. Pursuant to MSA, Circuit Court accepted her plea and took jurisdiction over minor children. Respondent’s attorney agreed MSA authorized court to take jurisdiction. Court said it was taking “formal jurisdiction” and authorized petitioner to file supplemental petition asking for termination of respondent’s parental rights. On appeal, respondent argued her written plea that was incorporated into MSA was invalid and could not form basis for court to take jurisdiction over children. Court ordered parties to engage in mediation immediately after preliminary hearing wherein it found probable cause to authorize petition and ordered temporary placement of children. Parties negotiated MSA signed by all participants, including respondent. MSA set forth consequences of court’s acceptance of admission plea.

Judge Gleicher’s dissent said before court may exercise jurisdiction based on plea it must satisfy itself that parent knowingly, understandingly, and voluntarily waived rights. MCR 3.971(C)(1). No dialogue between court and parent occurred. Mediation employed as substitute for adjudicative trial improperly bypassed due process MCR protections. Circuit Court never obtained jurisdiction.

Supreme Court denies leave to appeal in “pressure to settle” case.

Vittiglio v Vittiglio, 493 Mich 936; 825 NW2d 584, 145825 (2013), dn lv 297 Mich App 391 (2012). COA affirmed Circuit Court’s holding that audio recorded MSA at mediation was binding and “certain amount of pressure to settle is fundamentally inherent in the mediation process.” COA affirmed Circuit Court that plaintiff was liable for sanctions because plaintiff’s motions were filed for frivolous reasons and Circuit Court did not abuse discretion in awarding costs and attorney fees.

Confidentiality in mediation.

Detroit Free Press Inc v Detroit, 480 Mich 1079; 744 NW2d 667 (2008), held Circuit Court did not abuse discretion when it dissolved non-disclosure provision and permitted disclosure of deposition. Justice Kelly’s concurring opinion said communications between parties or counsel and mediator relating to mediation are confidential and shall not be disclosed without written consent of all parties. MCR 2.411(C)(5). Although deposition recited statements made during mediation, City did not request redaction. Because City did not request redaction, Circuit Court did not abuse discretion in not ordering it.

B. Michigan Court of Appeals Published Decisions

There do not appear to have been any Michigan Court of Appeals published decisions concerning mediation during the review period.

C. Michigan Court of Appeals Unpublished Decisions

CCA trumps MSA.

Vial v Flowers, 332549 (September 22, 2016). COA rejected wife’s contention parties had not entered into MSA concerning custody. December 2015 mediation resulted in actual MSA. However, COA held Circuit Court failed to adequately consider child’s best interests before it entered custody judgment in April 2016. COA said party is bound by his or her signature on child custody MSA as long as Circuit Court agrees MSA is in best interests of child. MSA signed by parties was binding on parties subject to Circuit Court doing best interests analysis. When parties enter into otherwise binding custody agreement, Circuit Court is not relieved of obligation to examine best interest factors. By signing and entering judgment of custody, court implicitly acknowledges it has (1) examined best interest factors, (2) engaged in profound deliberation as to its discretionary custody ruling, and (3) is satisfied custody order is in child’s best interests. Evidentiary hearing was not necessarily required given custody MSA. Significantly, COA indicated Circuit Court also erred by not considering whether established custodial environment existed. Does this mean, if established custodial environment exists, parents cannot agree to enforceable MSA that changes parenting time, “unless there is presented clear and convincing evidence that [the changes are] in the best interest of the child[?]” MCL 722.27(1)(c). If so, would this arguably mean an MSA that changes parenting time would be prelude to litigation rather than end of litigation?

Attendance and authority at mediation session.

Howard v Glen Haven Shores Ass’n, 325812 (July 7, 2016). Circuit Court properly refused to enforce purported MSA where defendant did not violate an order by not having its entire Board of Directors at the mediation; and it was known that any settlement was subject to approval by the full Board.

MSA not enforced.

Coloma Emergency Ambulance, Inc v Timothy E Onderline, Ears, Inc, 325616 (April 21, 2016) app lv app pdg. Parties participated in mediation which resulted in all counsel signing “Proposed Settlement” document, which referenced future signing of additional documents. Circuit Court held document was not binding contract. COA affirmed. As background, if a preliminary agreement includes all essential terms, it can be enforceable agreement. Opdyke Investment Co v Norris Grain Co, 413 Mich 354; 320 NW2d 836 (1982), Heritage Broadcasting Co v Wilson Communications, Inc, 170 Mich App 812; 428 NW2d 784 (1988).

DR MSA enforced.

Kleinjan v Carlton, 328772 (January 19, 2016), enforced DR MSA. COA said Circuit Court did not err by entering order based on parties’ signed, handwritten MSA, despite defendant’s attempt to disavow MSA. Defendant bound by terms of signed, written MSA. MCR 3.216(H)(7). She cannot dispute MSA based on change in heart.

Child custody MSA not enforced.

Bono v Bono, 325331 (November 19, 2015), held Circuit Court abused discretion by entering MSA judgment of divorce, which included child custody provisions, without first considering statutory best interest factors. Child Custody Act requires Circuit Court to determine what custodial placement is in best interests of children, even if parties utilize ADR to come to agreement regarding custody.

MSA not binding contract.

In split decision, Control Room Technologies, LLC v Waypoint Fiber Networks, LLC, 320553 (April 28, 2015), held Circuit Court erred in concluding MSA was binding contract. Majority said considering essential terms that were omitted from MSA, and circumstances surrounding its execution, three-page handwritten MSA was so cursory in its treatment of complex matters that parties did not intend document to be binding contract. Circuit Court erred in concluding MSA was enforceable contract.

Dissent said MSA was sufficiently definite to be enforceable contract. Agreement incorporated 50 page plus document which provided essential terms for agreement.

Repeated challenges to MSA sanctionable.

Annis v Annis, 319577 (April 16, 2015), affirmed Circuit Court's finding that plaintiff's challenges to MSA, after Circuit Court found it enforceable, violated MCR 2.114(D)(2), and affirmed Circuit Court's awarding of sanctions for this violation.

Unsigned MSA not enforced.

Central Warehouse Operations, Inc v Riffell, 319183 (March 24, 2015). Parties negotiated oral settlement agreement with aid of “facilitator.” Attorneys were not present at that “meeting,” and agreement was not reduced to writing. COA said, while parties acknowledged some form of agreement was made, agreement was nothing more than agreement to agree and not enforceable settlement agreement.

COA sets aside MSA.

Heiden v Heiden, 318245 (February 26, 2015), vacated MSA. Parties signed “antenuptial agreement” describing husband’s premarital personal injury settlement as his separate property. Twenty-four years later, wife filed for divorce. COA said Circuit Court incorrectly ruled antenuptial agreement applied only in event of death, not divorce. Matter proceeded to mediation after this incorrect conclusion. Parties failed to consider during mediation whether disputed property belonged to husband alone or became part of marital estate. Parties reached MSA predicated on inaccurate description of separate and marital property. Property division and spousal support award disparately favored wife. Judgment was entered reflecting MSA. COA vacated property division and spousal support award and remanded to Circuit Court to set aside MSA. Circuit Court must accept that antenuptial agreement applies to divorce proceeding.

Undisclosed pregnancy at mediation.

Cieslinski v Cieslinski, 319609 (November 13, 2014). Circuit Court should have set aside consent judgment when husband alleged (1) wife withheld information she was pregnant with another man’s child before he signed consent judgment of divorce, and (2) knowledge of her pregnancy would have affected his decision to sign consent judgment because he would have been concerned about wife’s ability to properly parent children. Circuit Court abused its discretion when it failed to hold evidentiary hearing after husband in essence alleged that wife fraudulently obtained consent judgment.

Incomplete MSA not enforced.

Kendzierski v Macomb Co, 316508 (September 23, 2014). Signed MSA that resolved only damages issue but left unresolved other issues not enforceable. COA said court cannot force parties to settle lawsuits and cannot make contract for parties where there is no contract. Plaintiffs failed to establish contract to settle dispute existed. Mere discussions and negotiation, including unaccepted offers, cannot be substituted for contract requirements. Even if valid oral contract to settle dispute resulted during “facilitation,” it was not enforceable because agreement was not made in open court and written evidence of agreement to settle, subscribed by defendant or its attorney, did not exist. MCR 2.507(G).

MSA enforced.

Faustina v Town Center, 311385 (August 7, 2014). MSA was reached. When plaintiff failed to comply with MSA, plaintiff testified she signed MSA, but her medical bills, which she had tried to show attorneys, were not taken into account. Circuit Court held MSA was binding, ordered plaintiff to sign release, and ordered defendants were not required to turn over settlement checks until plaintiff signed release, and dismissed case with prejudice. Since there was meeting of minds as to MSA’s essential terms, COA affirmed Circuit Court’s order enforcing MSA.

MSA set aside by COA.

Hayes v Morris, 315586 (July 29, 2014). Parties were ordered to domestic relations mediation. Parties reached MSA that provided for largely equal division of marital estate. No judgment based on agreement was entered. Then husband died. In Tokar v Albery, 258 Mich App 350; 671 NW2d 139 (2003), parties, during divorce proceedings, submitted property issues to arbitration. After filing of award but before entry of judgment, husband died. Tokar held that trial court correctly denied motion to enforce award because “trial court retains ultimate control over a divorce action” and “award, standing alone, does not have full force and effect unless and until the trial court enters a judgment of divorce based on that award.” Court mentioned two possible exceptions under which award could be enforced: (1) if entry of judgment would have been “ministerial” and (2) if decedent had acted in reliance on award. Court found that entry of judgment would not have been “ministerial” because, in part, there were issues remaining and, before judgment of divorce was entered, parties had option to reconcile or stipulate to agreement different from award. Same reasoning held true in present case. Court found no reliance by decedent. To show reliance, meaningful proof of conduct indicating parties in good faith believed they were divorced is required.

Mediation in parental rights case.

In re Vanalstine, Minors, 312858 (April 11, 2013). Circuit Court ordered parties to mediate, which resulted in MSA concerning parental rights to minor children. Mother did not comply with MSA and Court terminated parental rights. COA indicated that contrary to mother’s assertion, Circuit Court did not terminate rights solely for failure to comply with MSA. Circuit Court’s decision was based on mother’s conduct, which included but was not limited to failure to comply, and which led to Circuit Court’s assessment of statutory termination factors. COA found it unnecessary to resolve whether defense of impossibility could render MSA void or voidable.

Post arbitration-mediation conduct of arbitrator-mediator.

Hartman v Hartman, 304026 (August 7, 2012), concerned same individual being arbitrator and mediator and post-arbitration/mediation conduct of arbitrator-mediator and defense counsel. Circuit Court ordered mediation. When mediation failed, parties agreed to arbitrate using mediator as arbitrator. Arbitrator issued awards covering minor issues. Before arbitration on major issues, parties agreed to again mediate utilizing arbitrator as mediator. This mediation failed. Parties then reached settlement agreement on their own. At entry of judgment hearing, plaintiff said he had concerns about arbitrator acting as neutral. He did not ask to have agreement set aside. Hearing was continued. Plaintiff’s counsel contacted arbitrator to inform arbitrator. Arbitrator told plaintiff’s counsel arbitrator was going to be in Florida and staying at home of defense counsel while defense counsel would be present. Plaintiff’s counsel contacted defense counsel to request new arbitrator to handle remaining issues. Defense counsel refused request.

Plaintiff filed motions to remove arbitrator, have new arbitrator appointed, and obtain relief from settlement. Defendant argued awards were moot because settlement had been reached. Defense counsel argued what occurred between him and arbitrator was hospitality and numerous attorneys, including judges, had stayed at his Florida home. Circuit Court denied plaintiff’s motion, stating there was no appearance of impropriety because parties ultimately reached settlement and trip to Florida occurred 30 days after mediation. Judgment of divorce was entered. Circuit Court held there was no evidence of clear or actual bias by arbitrator and no evidence to prove what occurred between arbitrator and defense counsel rose to level of clear actual partiality.

COA affirmed Circuit Court’s denial of plaintiff’s motion to set aside settlement agreement and judgment of divorce. COA stated:

The totality of the circumstances ... rises to a level that would have required the arbitrator to be removed from arbitrating or mediating the remaining matters. However, the final matters that remained outstanding at the time of the arbitrator's and defense counsel's vacation together were settled by the judge. The arbitration awards issued before the settlement agreement became moot because the settlement agreement handled those matters. The only issue not moot is whether the settlement agreement can be set aside. We find that it cannot. . . .

SCAO Mediator Standards of Conduct Standards (February 1, 2013) indicates:

Standard III. Conflicts of Interest

A. A mediator should avoid a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest both during and after mediation. A conflict of interest is a dealing or relationship that could reasonably be viewed as creating an impression of possible bias or as raising a question about the impartiality or self-interest on the part of the mediator.

G. In considering whether establishing a personal or another professional relationship with any of the participants after the conclusion of the mediation process might create a perceived or actual conflict of interest, the mediator should consider factors such as time elapsed since the mediation, consent of the parties, the nature of the relationship established, and services offered. Emphasis added.

Model Standards of Conduct for Mediators (September 2005) of AAA, ABA's Section of Dispute Resolution, and ACR states:

STANDARD III. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST ...

F. Subsequent to a mediation, a mediator shall not establish another relationship with any of the participants in any matter that would raise questions about the integrity of the mediation. When a mediator develops personal or professional relationships with parties, other individuals or organizations following a mediation in which they were involved, the mediator should consider factors such as time elapsed following the mediation, the nature of the relationships established, and services offered when determining whether the relationships might create a perceived or actual conflict of interest. Emphasis added.

Code of Ethics for Arbitrators in Commercial Disputes (March 1, 2004) states:

CANON I: AN ARBITRATOR SHOULD UPHOLD THE INTEGRITY AND FAIRNESS OF THE ARBITRATION PROCESS. ...

C. After accepting appointment and while serving as an arbitrator, a person should avoid entering into any business, professional, or personal relationship, or acquiring any financial or personal interest, which is likely to affect impartiality or which might reasonably create the appearance of partiality. For a reasonable period of time after the decision of a case, ... arbitrators should avoid entering into any such relationship, or acquiring any such interest, in circumstances which might reasonably create the appearance that they had been influenced in the arbitration by the anticipation or expectation of the relationship or interest. Emphasis added.

To degree there was relationship between plaintiff's negotiating positions and arbitration decisions and mediation process, issue exists whether plaintiff was entitled to make settlement decisions in environment without prior arbitration decisions and mediator comments that came from neutral whose post arb-med conduct raised alleged apparent standards of conduct issues.

Circuit court can enter judgment on mediation agreement.

Unit 67, LLC v Hudson, 303398 (June 7, 2012), affirmed Circuit Court entry of consent judgment because defendant had agreed to terms of property consent judgment and mediator did not engage in fraudulent conduct.

Mediation agreement evidenced parties' mutual intent.

Roe v Roe, 297855 (July 19, 2011). MSA evidenced mutual intent of parties to value retirement assets and was enforceable. Property settlement provisions in divorce judgment typically are final and cannot be modified by court.

Mediation resolution does not deprive court of its authority and obligations.

In re BJ, 296273 (January 20, 2011). Domestic relations mediation is not binding but is subject to acceptance or rejection by parties. Parents' utilization of ADR does not deprive court of Child Custody Act, MCL 722.23, authority and obligations.

Circuit Court cannot order PPO to mediation.

Baker v Holloway, 288606 (January 26, 2010) (“Suppressed” MCR 3.705©]. Respondent appealed Circuit Court order denying her motion to terminate ex parte PPO. Instead of having hearing on whether PPO should be terminated, respondent was ordered to mediate with petitioner. Respondent claimed Circuit Court erred by requiring her to mediate because she was entitled to prompt hearing on merits of PPO. COA held mediation may not be required as condition to having hearing on PPO. COA vacated order denying respondent's motion to terminate PPO and remanded for evidentiary hearing to determine whether PPO should be terminated.

Court rejects custody MSA.

Roguska v Roguska, 291352 (September 29, 2009). Circuit Court did not err in rejecting custody MSA, finding no custodial environment existed, and applied proper standard in evaluating custody. Parties negotiated MSA signed by mediator, parties, and attorneys. MSA concerned custody, parenting time, property and child support. Parties said consent judgment was consistent with MSA. Plaintiff testified defendant “lied” during mediation. Circuit Court rejected MSA regarding custody. COA held Circuit Court not bound by MSA regarding custody. Child Custody Act, MCL 722.21 et seq, requires Circuit Court to determine independently custodial placement that is in best interests of children. Statutory best interest factors are paramount when court enters custody order.

Public body mediation and Open Meetings Act.

Hunt v Green Lake Twp, 283524 (May 21, 2009). Township failed to have entire Board of Trustees at mediation; and failed to submit pre-mediation submission required by pre-trial order. COA held Township made good faith attempt by having some members present because full attendance would have created Open Meetings Act, MCL 15.261, et seq, public meeting; and failure to provide submission did not materially harm plaintiff because Township had previously provided plaintiff with rationale for its position.

MSA binding.

Miller v Miller, 282997 (March 24, 2009). Plaintiff moved to set aside signed MSA arguing she was tricked by her attorney, she misunderstood MSA, and MSA gave other party unconscionable advantage. Circuit Court denied motion and COA affirmed.
